God the Creator Robert Cummings Neville, 1992-02-13 God the Creator provides a detailed exposition of a conception of God as the creator of everything determinate It does not defend an established conception such as the Thomist the Calvinist or the Process theological idea but rather elaborates the ancient theme of creation ex nihilo in a new form appropriate to the contemporary world Part one is a rigorous philosophical development of the idea of God as creator ex nihilo arguing that an adequate solution to the problem of the one and the many demands such a conception This part includes a dialectical examination of contemporary and classical theories of being Part two asks how one can have knowledge of the kind of God described previously it deals with experience analogy and dialectic Part three applies the conception developed in part one to fundamental religious conceptions such as the object of worship the nature of religion and the practices of private and public religious life It presents theories arising from the conception of creation ex nihilo for the interpretation of religious concern conversion faith certainty solitude bliss service liturgy providence evangelism dedication reconciliation brotherhood discipline the integration of public and private religion relative to other dimensions of life freedom love and glory Though the language arises from the Christian tradition and expresses an orthodox strand of that religion the argument weaves throughout the concerns of many world religions

Nature and Divinity in Plato's Timaeus Sarah Broadie, 2011-11-10 Plato's Timaeus is one of the most influential and challenging works of ancient philosophy to have come down to us Sarah Broadie's rich and compelling study proposes new interpretations of major elements of the Timaeus including the separate Demiurge the cosmic beginning the second mixing the Receptacle and the Atlantis story Broadie shows how Plato deploys the mythic themes of the Timaeus to convey fundamental philosophical insights and examines the profoundly differing methods of interpretation which have been brought to bear on the work Her book is for everyone interested in Ancient Greek philosophy cosmology and mythology whether classicists philosophers historians of ideas or historians of science It offers new findings to scholars familiar with the material but it is also a clear and reliable resource for anyone coming to it for the first time Recovery of the Measure Robert C. Neville,1989-08-15 Neville s most significant scholarly contribution is arguably his metaphysical theory of being or being itself a new theory that involves an original solution to the ancient problem of the one and the many He developed this theory for his PhD dissertation at Yale University graduated 1963 of which his first book God the Creator constitutes a substantial revision Exploring the implications of that theory has enabled him to produce a philosophy of nature that rivals Alfred North Whitehead s in scope and power as can be seen from his three volume Axiology of Thinking The first volume in that trilogy Reconstruction of Thinking 1981 was hailed by Donald W Sherburne editor of the corrected edition of Whitehead s Process and Reality as a truly important book It is the first genuinely neo Whiteheadian offering on a large systematic scale The second volume of the trilogy Recovery of the Measure Interpretation and Nature 1989 was also well received The prominent Confucian scholar and philosopher David L Hall wrote of it as follows Because of its timeliness the brilliance of its arguments and the profundity of its conclusions A History of Philosophy Johann Eduard Erdmann,1897 Catalogue of All Books in the Circulating and Reference Departments of the Public School Library, Columbus ... Columbus (Ohio). Public School Library,1897 The Intellectual World of Late Antique Christianity Lewis Ayres,Michael W. Champion,Matthew R.
