

DIRECTIONS

Make sure you

- show all your work in solving the problem,
- clearly label your answer,
- tell in words how you solved the problem,
- tell in words why you took the steps you did to solve the problem, and
- write as clearly as you can.

To solve this problem first I, made 19 wheels because I could make the problem easier by putting an arrow and a B or T for bike 2 wheels or trike 3 wheels. Next I, made bikes but when I only had 3 wheels left I stopped because if I made another bike I'd only have 1 wheel left and there's nothing with 1 wheel. Then I, made the last 3 wheels a trike because 3 wheels would make a trike and if I made another bike I'd only have 1 wheel but we don't have any unicycles finally I wrote Bikes and Trike and put in my answer of 8 bikes and 1 trike

Classroom Assessment Lorin W. Anderson, 2003-02-26 This book is based on the belief that decision making is perhaps the most critical of all teaching skills and that good assessments lie at the core of good decision making To become better teachers then teachers must learn to make informed decisions about both individual students learning decisions and about groups of students teaching decisions This book gives equal status to both types of decisions and shows how assessment is integral to both The organization of the book is sequential mirroring the way in which information should be used to make decisions It begins with a conceptual framework linking information to decision making then moves to the design of assessment instruments and the collection of assessment information then to the interpretation of assessment information and finally to reporting the results of both the assessment and the decision making process There is an emphasis throughout on linking why teachers assess with what and how they assess Other key features include Practical Framework The book's framework corresponds to the framework that teachers use to grade their students conduct classroom behavior effort student motivation and achievement student learning Unique Chapters There are separate chapters on interpreting assessment information prior to decision making and on reporting assessment information to parents teachers and administrators Flexibility Because of its modest length and price and its practical focus on the links between assessment and everyday teacher decision making this text can be used either in full length assessment courses for teachers or to teach the assessment units in educational psychology or integrated methods courses Show What You Know on the WASL, 3rd Grade Parent/Teacher Edition (2nd Edition) Englefield & Associates, Incorporated, 2006 P T Edition WASL The Parent Teacher Edition of the Washington Assessment of Student Learning WASL correlates with the Student Workbook and covers the Essential Academic Learning Requirements EALR's Components and new Grade Level Expectations GLE's Offers Teaching Tips and activities covers all subjects tested per grade level with answers and in depth analyses test item distribution charts scoring rubrics subject specific glossaries of terms scoring guides and item distribution charts

Student Work and Teacher Practices in Science Christine Y. O'Sullivan, Andrew R. Weiss, 1999 In 1996 the National Assessment of Educational Progress NAEP assessed the knowledge and skills of students in the areas of earth science life science and physical science It also collected information related to the background of students grades 4 8 and 12 their teachers grades 4 and 8 and the schools they attended grades 4 8 and 12 This report is intended primarily for science teachers hence the results presented relate directly to student performance classroom practices and school climate This report also discusses students attitudes and beliefs about science The report is divided into four parts In the first part chapter 1 an overview of the assessment is provided This includes information about the framework used in the development of the assessment a description of how the assessment was administered to students and an explanation of how to interpret NAEP results In the second part chapters 2 3 and 4 examples of questions and student responses are presented These chapters are divided by grade The third part chapters 5 and 6 contains information collected from students teachers and school administrators about classroom practices student motivation and parental involvement in learning Finally the fourth part contains appendices offering a fuller description of the procedures used for the NAEP 1996 science assessment appendix A scoring guides for questions discussed in chapters 2 3 and 4 appendix B and standard errors for the statistics presented in the report appendix C WRM

Reading Assessment Redesigned Judith A. Langer, 1995 Highlighting the important innovations embodied in the 1992 National Assessment of Educational Progress NAEP Reading Report Card this report provides information on how the NAEP's large scale reading assessment is evolving in response to changing perceptions of reading development and assessment procedures Included in the report is an overview of the theoretical framework underlying the assessment a description of and presentation of reading materials used in the assessment a discussion of students performance on constructed response questions and a presentation of example questions Major findings discussed in the report include 1 at grades 4 8 and 12 students average performance was highest on multiple choice questions somewhat lower on short constructed response questions and lowest on extended response questions 2 the advantage of female students over male students in reading achievement was more evident for the short constructed response questions than for multiple choice questions and the most evident for extended response questions and 3 when demonstrating comprehension of texts that they had selected from a compendium of seven short stories eighth and twelfth graders demonstrated relative success in answering the constructed response questions Also included in the report are results of students performance in reading for different purposes Finally two special studies conducted in 1992 are highlighted in the report a literary selection task and a comparison of oral and written responses to comprehension questions Contains 31 tables and five figures of data A procedural appendix is attached RS

An Educational Psychology Textbook Equity, 2014-10-10 The first half of the book focuses on broader questions and principles taken from psychology per se and the second half focuses on somewhat more practical issues of teaching All parts of the book draw on research theory and practical wisdom wherever appropriate Chapter 2 is about learning theory and Chapter 3 is about development Chapter 4 is about several forms of student diversity and Chapter 5 is about students with disabilities Chapter 6 is about motivation Following these somewhat more basic psychological chapters we turn to several lasting challenges of classroom life challenges that seem to be an intrinsic part of the job Chapter 7 offers ideas about classroom management Chapter 8 ideas about communicating with students Chapter 9 about ways to assist students complex forms of thinking and Chapter 10 about planning instruction systematically The book closes with two chapters about assessment of learning

Decision Making for Educational Leaders Bob L. Johnson Jr., Sharon D. Kruse, 2012-02-01 Why another book on decision making In this increasingly complex world there are many tensions inherent in the daily practice of school leaders This book illuminates these tensions and acknowledges the reality that there are already multiple approaches to decision making in any school The authors offer a guide to integrate the influences of school and community members as well as data and organizational context into the decision making process They focus on underexamined dimensions of decision making including 1 the art of theory use 2 organizational context 3 political dynamics 4 inferential leaps and causal assumptions 5 the role of intuition 6 data driven decision making 7 the role of emotions and affect and 8 making the tough decision Dispositions that enhance success are highlighted These ideas will empower school principals superintendents and other leaders to approach with confidence the decisions they are called on to make
