

Lesson 11: Unknown Angle Proofs—Proofs of Known Facts

Student Outcomes

- Students write unknown angle proofs involving known facts.

Lesson Notes

In this last lesson on unknown angle proofs, students use their proof-writing skills to examine facts already familiar to them (i.e., the sum of angles of a triangle is 180° and vertical angles are congruent). This offers students a why and a how to this body of information. Proving known facts also makes students aware of the way this list grows because proving one fact allows the proof of the next fact.

Students begin by reviewing the Problem Set from Lesson 10. Then, they explore a known fact: Opposite angles of parallelograms are equal in measure. After working through the proof as a whole class, the teacher should point out that although we have a body of familiar geometry facts, we have never explored them to make sure they were true. Demonstrate with the examples provided that it is possible to use one basic fact to build to the next. After the notes, share the video clip about Eratosthenes and his use of geometry (especially the use of alternate interior angles in the thought process) to find the circumference of Earth. Then, do Example 1 and also discuss the use of the converse parallel line theorems and their abbreviations. Consider demonstrating why the converse holds true, for example, by asking a helper to hold up a ruler (the transversal) and a second helper to hold two rulers, one in each hand. Ask them to show what the rulers do to test a converse parallel line theorem. End class with the problem set assignment.

Classwork

Opening Exercise (8 minutes)

Review the Problem Set from Lesson 10. Students engage in a whole-class discussion about proving known facts, beginning with a specific example.

Opening Exercise

A proof of a mathematical statement is a detailed explanation of how that statement follows logically from other statements already accepted as true.

A theorem is a mathematical statement with a proof.

Note to Teacher:

Remind students that a theorem is often stated as an “if-then,” or:

If “hypothesis,” then “conclusion.”

Consider taking a moment to mention that theorems can be stated without reference to any specific, labeled diagram. However, we cannot take steps to prove a statement without a way of referring to parts. Students will observe situations where the labels are provided and situations where they must draw diagrams and label parts.
