

MATHS WITH MANIPULATIVES: ATTRIBUTE BLOCKS

Paul Swan

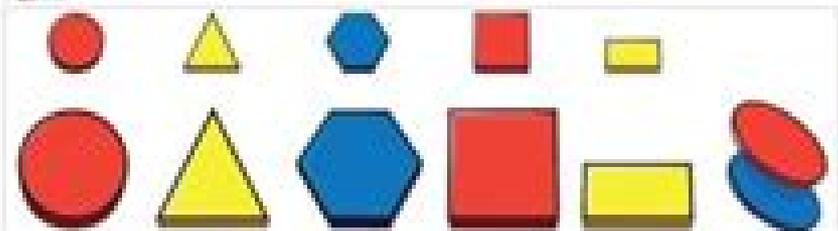

Figure 2

Attribute blocks are often combined with Pattern Blocks and Cuisinart® Rods. When mixed together in a clear plastic container, Pattern Blocks come in 30 sets that consist of 12 sets pieces pieces which are often reserved for Number Blocks. Pattern Blocks come in five pieces: Yellow Hexagons, Red Trapezoids, Blue and Tan Rhombuses, Green Triangles and Orange Squares (see Figure 1).

Attribute Blocks are plastic shapes that come in:

- Two flat legs or rods
- Two-dimensional flat or thin
- Three colours and three or yellow
- Five shapes: triangle, square, rectangle, trapezoid and circle (see Figure 2).

The fact that there is a yellow trapezoid in the Pattern Block set and the Attribute Block set covers part of the confusion.

MANAGING THE MATERIALS

The size, thickness, colour and shape represent the block's attributes, hence the name Attribute Blocks.

Figure 3

With just four words, you can describe a single block. A large block that is orange would look like this:

Three flat individual pieces make up a set of Attribute Blocks (1 × 2 × 1 × 1). Each block is different, so I suggest the original packaging is kept and the pieces packed away at the end of each session (see Figure 3). Also, I would buy an extra set, so you have spare available to top up one, two sets.

SAMPLE ACTIVITIES

FOR A PEEK

The blocks are placed on the table. If you don't like the name of glasses on the desk, place a white card next to the desk. It reads: 'The name follows the "long name" and makes a good background if the blocks are photographed.'

The person chooses a block and the other person asks questions to bring out their words. Consider how the block's attributes are connected to the word 'leaf'. How is the block most like most of the others in addition?

SPIN AND FIND

Use an Attribute Spinner or another that is spun up a piece (see Figure 4).

Pick up a piece and only a note the spinner features may complete the story according to using the features of the spinner (see section on). A small Attribute Block Spinner can be found at www.mathworksheetsland.com.

NOT SPINNER

Introduce the word with a story provided that links word to mathematics. For the word 'attribute' you could use the spinner up on the spinner. For example, the piece is red, large, flat, and yellow and has a circle. The name there will be more possible answers. The piece could be small, flat, red or blue, orange square, rectangle, trapezoid. Once again, not all general words need to be linked and the word 'leaf' does not have to be used to find all of each part on the spinner.

PLAY SPERDUCK BOOKS

This is a game for four players. The blocks are placed out on the table and mixed around.

The talking version

Three players draw their card and the remaining player 'reads a story'. The three players work with cooperatively to find the other pieces without talking.

Figure 4

The students are allowed to move and mix pieces. When they follow the card from the missing piece, they can only see five words. The card will then say you are complete or not quite!

Talking version

Three sets introduce the block's talking questions to check the student is with 'yes' or 'no'. Allowing students to see the spinner to help track provides visual support to enable students who get 'lost' to see on the spinner.

LANGUAGE AND LOGIC

Students draw one writing card to form their diagrams. Two Diagrams are named after John Snow (1814 – 1858), a mathematician and logician.

Blocks placed on the intersection of two circles mean that two criteria or attributes, that is red and triangle, making a third attribute means that the intersection of all three criteria means that three criteria will need to be met (see Figure 5). The link between language and logic becomes clear.

Consider how students work – how correct words represent work.

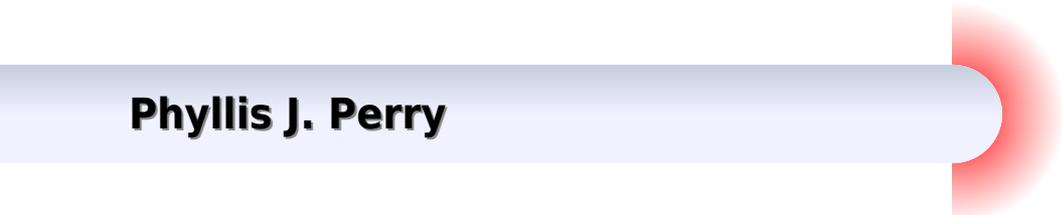

Figure 5

SYMBOLS AND LANGUAGE

Students may use different writing systems to describe the relationship between pieces. See Figure 6.
