

Week 20, Friday

*Ruth 1:1, 3-6, 14b-16, 22, Ps 146,
Matt 22:34-40*

That the church may always uphold the precept of love of God and love of neighbor on which the law and the prophets depends

That the command to love our neighbor that is written on every human heart may lead those in a position of power to respect the dignity of each human being under their care

That the devoted love shown by Ruth to Naomi may be the inspiration of marriages and friendships and all the ties that bind us to one another

That Jesus, who gave us the great commandment of mutual love, may lead the way in love by granting our requests for all who have appealed to us for prayer in a time of need

That the Lord, who sets captives free and who raises up those who are bowed down, may free our dear departed ones from all that holds them back from the full enjoyment of His heavenly kingdom

Week 20, Saturday

*Ruth 2:1-3, 8-11, 4:13-17, Ps 128,
Matt 23:1-12*

For our Holy Father, our bishops and priests, servants of the servants of God, that they may always follow the Master in His teaching and His example

That bonds of love and care may be forged between peoples, after the example of Ruth, who because of her love became the ancestress of Jesus

That we may never perform our religious and charitable acts to be seen, but take our place with Mary among the humble who are lifted up by the Lord

For all who, like Naomi, have known grief and loss, sickness and trial in their lives, that they may be comforted as she was by human love, and granted new life by our compassionate Father

For the souls who have departed this life, who have entered the humiliation of death, that they may be exalted now in the presence of Jesus
