

CHAPTER 6 ARRAYS IN C

1. Define array. Why do we use arrays in computer program?

Ans: Array is a collection of similar data items where elements are stored in contiguous memory location.

We use array to store multiple values in a single variable, instead of declaring separate variable for each value.

2. Can we store both integer and float types of data in a single array? Demonstrate this by writing a C program.

Ans: We cannot not store both integer and float types of data in a single array because an array can store only similar types of data.

#include<stdio.h>

int main()
{
    int i, a[5]={3,6,4,5,12};
    printf("The array elements are:\n");
    for(i=0; i<5; i++) printf("%d\t", a[i]);
    return 0;

In the above example, an integer type array is initialized. All the values are also integer type, i.e according to the property of array it can store only homogenous data, we cannot store value other than integer in the declared array. To store float types of data we need to declare float type array separately.

3. Write the indices of the first and last element of the following array declaration.

char city[7]={'S', 'I', 'L', 'C', 'H', 'A', 'R'};

Ans: The indices of the first and last element i.e 'S' and 'R' is 0 and 6 respectively.
