Relanguaging Language from a South African Township School Lara-Stephanie Krause-Alzaidi, 2021-12-20 Using data from a long term ethnographic study of English language classrooms in a South African township this book highlights linguistic expertise in a setting where it is not usually expected or sought Rather than being peripheral and unskilled South African township teachers and learners emerge as skilled re languagers central to the workings of South African education and to our understanding of how language classrooms work This book foregrounds the heterogeneity flexibility and creativity of day to day language practices that African urban spaces are known for and conceptualises language teaching not as a progression from one fixed language to another but as a circular sorting process between linguistic heterogeneity languaging and homogeneity a standard language

Nietzsche's "Ecce Homo" Nicholas Martin, Duncan Large, 2020-12-16 Friedrich Nietzsche s intellectual autobiography Ecce Homo has always been a controversial book Nietzsche prepared it for publication just before he became incurably insane in early 1889 but it was held back until after his death and finally appeared only in 1908 For much of the first century of its reception Ecce Homo met with a sceptical response and was viewed as merely a testament to its author s incipient madness This was hardly surprising since he is deliberately outrageous with the megalomaniacal self advertisement of his chapter titles and brazenly claims I am not a man I am dynamite as he attempts to explode one preconception after another in the Western philosophical tradition In recent decades there has been increased interest in the work especially in the English speaking world but the present volume is the first collection of essays in any language devoted to the work Most of the essays are selected from the proceedings of an international conference held in London to mark the centenary of the first publication of Ecce Homo in 2008 They are supplemented by a number of specially commissioned essays Contributors include established and emerging Nietzsche scholars from the UK and USA Germany and France Portugal Sweden and the Netherlands

A scholarly inquiry into disciplinary practices in educational institutions Connie B. Zulu, Izak J. Oosthuizen, Charl C. Wolhuter, Corene de Wet, Rika Joubert, Ansie E. Kitching, Michael L. Marumo, Zahraa McDonald, Nicholus T. Mollo, Louis J. Oosthuizen, Ferdinand J. Potgieter, Bianke van Rooyen, Marius H. Smit, Amos T. Thebenyane, Andre van der

Bijl, Johannes (Hannes) L. van der Walt, 2019-12-12 This book is a collection of chapters based on original research dealing with issues of discipline and disciplinary practices in educational institutions The aim of the book is to provide a scholarly and scientific perspective on the current state of discipline and disciplinary practices in schools and tertiary education settings The issue of discipline is investigated from diverse paradigmatic and methodological perspectives presenting empirical as well as also philosophical research The empirical perspective includes quantitative positivistic qualitative interpretive and mixed methods pragmatic designs and worldviews This book offers a ground breaking contribution to the field of learner and student discipline with insights into disciplinary practices and issues in educational institutions not hitherto researched such as Technical Vocational Education and Training colleges and universities

Transforming African Food Systems Claire Helen Quinn, Andrew John Dougill, Julian Douglas May, 2025-10-24 Overcoming Africa's development challenges cannot be uncoupled from the need to transform the continent's food systems One in four people in sub-Saharan Africa faces food insecurity and Africa will need to produce 80% more food by 2050 The challenge is complicated by the interrelationship between agriculture and environmental sustainability In addition agriculture also remains one of the most effective pathways out of poverty on the continent As agriculture both contributes to and is affected by climate change there is a pressing need for innovation in climate smart agriculture that considers the environment as integral to the food system However access to nutritious safe food and improved livelihoods does not solely depend on boosting agricultural productivity Food systems encompass the activities and actors involved in all aspects of the food supply chain from production through to consumption and disposal of food A food systems research approach recognises the importance of interactions and relationships between activities actors and thus the importance of interdisciplinary approaches for achieving transformative change The concerted and coordinated actions of the food industry agriculture production and processing retail food service sector and waste disposal and consumers are crucial to promote sustainable consumption and production with a focus on reducing all forms of food losses throughout the entire supply chain Food systems transformation needs to focus not just on increasing production but on access to food and markets nutrition diversity and security climate resilience and adaptation of both agro-ecological systems and the food system more broadly This Research Topic focuses specifically on transformation of African food systems While comprising many similar activities actors to other food systems African food systems also have activities actors and conditions that are specific to the African context These contextual factors include a shared history of colonisation that creates specific historical demographic political and socio-cultural drivers of change value chains that are often short and reliant on informal exchange and small scale operations distinct territorial imbalances that create significant inequalities and normative and cognitive institutions that create diverse cultural beliefs and values while influencing the roles of women and youth in food systems We welcome submission of original research articles case studies systematic reviews or meta-analysis that offer new insights and perspectives on African food systems transformation This topic will bring together
