Features of Narrative Writing

Stories usually have the following features:

Characters

The characters are the people in a story. What is going to happen to them?

Settings

The setting tells us when and where the story takes place.

Plot

The plot tells us what happens in the story (and the order that it happens in).

Opening

The start of the story. The opening should catch the readers' attention and make them want to carry on reading!

Middle

The events in the middle of the story might include
- a build-up to a problem,
- the problem itself,
- and how it is resolved.

Ending

This explains what happens to the characters next and describes what they have learned.

   Reading Under Control Judith Graham,Alison Kelly,2015-09-29 Now in an updated third edition this best selling textbook introduces primary teachers to the key issues in how to teach reading The authors celebrate reading as an important exhilarating part of the curriculum with the potential to transform lives whilst also giving a balanced handling of contentious issues Strongly rooted in classroom practi   Putting Social Justice and Equity at the Heart of Reading for Pleasure Jane Carter,2025-03-31 This essential book discusses what reading for pleasure is and what it is not introducing some fundamental ideas about how we learn to read and how this process can impact a child s identity as a reader in classrooms that promote equality inclusion and diversity The profile and importance of Reading for Pleasure has grown significantly over the last few years and is now firmly embedded in both government policy and the Ofsted framework Developing a Reading for Pleasure school that is truly inclusive of the whole school community however can require a culture shift in relation to the teaching of reading representation in the reading environment and the knowledge and attitudes of the school community This book seeks to use the current research teacher case studies and the voices of children to address some of the issues that teachers and pre service teachers encounter when trying to develop an inclusive Reading for Pleasure culture within their schools Each chapter is co authored by teachers and researchers and includes case studies and children s perspectives It provides practical and evidence based advice lesson ideas and creative ideas to both support and challenge all school leaders staff and student teachers in their journey to create readers rather than children that can just read

   Promoting Reading for Pleasure in the Primary School Michael Lockwood,2008-06-24 Winner of the UKLA Author Award 2009 Lockwood has written a useful supportive book which will help teachers and librarians He describes the background and summarises the research and then proposes thoroughly practical programmes Carousel Michael Lockwood has produced an excellent practical overview and analysis of what works in the primary school to promote reading for pleasure Lockwood s work is grounded and valuable to those who need it most teachers in the classroom working hard to engender a love of reading English Drama Media This book is first class It puts the matter very clearly and succinctly and presents a great deal of evidence to support the argument that pleasure is not a frivolous extra but the very heart and essence of what reading is about It also gives readers plenty of ideas for carrying the principle into the classroom and for justifying it This is an excellent piece of work which I hope will find a place on every staffroom bookshelf Philip Pullman English primary school children are less likely to read for pleasure than their counterparts in many other countries This practical and focused book discusses the background to this situation and looks at how government initiatives have tried to address it Drawing on the author s own research project in order to identify good practice in promoting reading for enjoyment the book presents specific activities which teachers can use to develop their own whole school and classroom practice enabling them to put the fun back into reading Each chapter features case study material and provides examples of planning from schools that have successfully created thriving reading cultures through schemes such as reading assemblies book clubs library loyalty cards school book evenings and quizzes There is also an extensive annotated list of print and internet based resources Topics covered include Becoming a reading for pleasure school Promoting a love of reading in the early years Developing reading enjoyment in the later primary years Getting boys reading Promoting Reading for Pleasure in the Primary School is written for all those involved in education who would like to see as many children as possible develop a love of reading It will be particularly relevant for primary teachers teaching assistants trainee teachers advisers and consultants as well as teacher educators and researchers An Introduction to Primary Mentoring Trisha Maynard,1997 With the emphasis on school based training growing stronger everyone involved needs access to a straightforward text which explains and clarifies the educational processes behind mentoring An Introduction to Primary Mentoring aims to meet this need The text is divided into two parts The first part discusses the principles and practices of effective mentoring and the second focuses specifically on mentoring the core subjects of English mathematics and science The School Librarian ,2005 The Secondary English Magazine ,2003 Primary History ,2005 Narrative Text Types Katy Collis,2009-09-14 All the tools a smart teacher needsAll you need to teach Narrative Text Types contains essential booklists checklists writing frames and more to support you and your students as they explore discover and write narrative text types Developing skills in writing narrative text with lower primaryAll the teaching tips you needTeaching narrative text typesAssessing narrative writingNarrative genres or structuresThe traits of good writingBooklistsAll the checklists your stu Linguistics and Language Behavior Abstracts ,2000 JACT Review ,1999 EUDISED European Educational Research Yearbook 1997/98 ,1999 The British National Bibliography Arthur James Wells,2002 Imaginative Narratives June Keir,2009 Imaginative Narratives is the first of four books in the series Text Types written by June Keir The series is designed to help students understand and appreciate the idea that texts differ from one another in terms of their purpose structural features language features and the medium in which they appear The series introduces students to a range of text types and in this way enables them to become confident in identifying a text as a particular type and qualifies them to form expectations about its content form and objectives The series also functions to help students begin to write different types of text confidently and incorporate the different features of each text type accurately The first book in the sereis introduces students to the text type narrative It exposes students to a number of engaging stories written by the author and by popluar children s storytellers so that they are able to recognise what a narrative looks like Carefully contstructed activities which are outcome linked help students understand how characters settings and storylines are created so that they can begin to plan and finally write their own narrative To motivate students to write the book is clearly divided into sections to highlight the idea that creating a narrative happens in stages The solutions for the activities are provided at the back of the book This series is highly recommended for any teacher teaching English in upper or lower secondary school Includes photocopy masters Narrative Text Types
