

Theme 1: Numbers

The basis of understanding multi digit numbers lies in the understanding of the place value system. Thus, it is important to start with the concept of place value through manipulatives like place value cards, spike abacus, unifix cubes and expanded and short form of numbers in class. International system of numeration is different than the one used in India. Children will understand that the difference lies in the process of grouping the digits called periods. They should be able to relate to various types of numbers learnt earlier i.e. counting numbers, common fractions and decimal fractions. A clear understanding about the relationship among these numbers will help them in further using these for problem solving strategies. Providing opportunities of using these in different contexts (familiar and unfamiliar) are important to develop strategies to deal with them.

Learning Outcomes:

Children will be able to:

- acquire understanding of 6 digit numbers and their use in daily life:
 - read and write numbers up to 6 digits (lac) using Indian system of writing large numbers;
 - use place value to write a number in expanded form and vice versa;
 - compare numbers using place value and arranges them in ascending and descending order
 - use the given 6 digits to form the greatest and smallest number;
 - represent numbers (up to 39) by Roman Numerals;
- work with fractions:
 - identify half, one-fourth, three-fourths in a given picture (by paper folding) and also in a collection of objects.
 - represent fractions as half, one-fourth and three-fourths by using symbols $\frac{1}{2}$, $\frac{1}{4}$, $\frac{3}{4}$ respectively.
 - show the equivalence of $\frac{1}{2}$ and $\frac{2}{4}$ and other fractions.
