SECTION A PRACTICALS

Candidates choose ONE question from this section

Sampling methods

Random sampling

-every member of the total population has an equal chance of being selected

Advantages

- ❖ It can be used with large populations
- ❖ It shows no bias

Systematic sampling

-takes place when values are selected in a regular way e.g. choosing every 10th person in the street

Advantages

- ❖ It is easy to use

Disadvantages

- All points do not have an equal chance of selection - it may either overstress or miss important information

Stratified sampling

-is used when there are significant groups within the population & therefore to ensure an adequate coverage of all the sub-groups it may be advisable to stratify the sample i.e. to divide the population into categories & sample within each

-once the groups have been decided, they can be sampled either systematically or randomly
