Philosophical and Theological Papers, 1965-1980
Bernard Lonergan, 2004-06-02. A companion to Philosophical and Theological Papers 1958-1964, Volume 6 in the Collected Works of Bernard Lonergan series, this anthology contains Lonergan's lectures on philosophy and theology given during the later period of his life (1965-1980). These papers document his development in the discipline during the years leading up to the publication of Method in Theology and beyond (1980), when he was more engaged in his writings and seminars on macroeconomics. Philosophical and Theological Papers 1965-1980 is divided into five sections forming units on the basis of dates. The three central sections are each a set of lectures respectively given at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, Gonzaga University in Spokane, and Trinity College University of Toronto. Although there is some repetition amongst the lecture sets and in relation to other more familiar works, this repetition displays occasional new turns of phrase that the careful reader will note. In at least one instance, familiar material suddenly opens out onto expressions not to be found anywhere else in Lonergan's work. Other very interesting developments regard the movement from speaking of the immutability of dogmas to their permanence of meaning and the permutations among real self-transcendence, performative self-transcendence, and moral self-transcendence.

Excerpt from book JULIUS CAESAR GENERAL QUESTIONS

- 1 To show the simplicity of the plot, material outline the action in one hundred words or less.
- 2 Give reasons for the play's comparative poverty in subtle analysis of character and motive and in poetic beauty. What is the influence in this respect of the nobly simple, austere, and somewhat stiff personality of Brutus? If Antony had been allowed to dominate and determine the tone of the play, how would the play have differed in effect? It would not be entirely misleading to compare in this connection the wonderfully rich and various Antony and Cleopatra. Coriolanus also has a voluminous majesty and a sumptuous splendor which forbids the assertion that the simplicity of Julius Caesar is due to the poet's estimate of the Roman type of mind.
- 3 What powers of the poet's mind are scarcely brought into play in this drama? What powers are clearly in evidence?
- 4 Try to define the exact nature of the pleasure you take in this play. Is it at all like the pleasure you take in any of the great tragedies or in any of the comedies?
- 5 Why is this play especially suited to the comprehension of children and to the elementary type of mind among adults? This must not of course be understood to imply condemnation unless we wish to include in that condemnation almost the entire tragic theater of the ancient world What scenes do you leave out of consideration in your answers to this and to the three preceding questions 6 Would you say that in this play the poet's powers of expression are in advance of his thought or that they lag behind his thought Or are thought and expression in a nearly perfect equipoise Select several passages in illustration Compare A Midsummer Night's Dream and The Tempest in this
