A History of Online Information Services, 1963-1976 Charles P. Bourne, Trudi Bellardo Hahn, 2003-08-01 A detailed chronology of the early pre Internet years of online information systems and services

Every field of history has a basic need for a detailed chronology of what happened who did what when In the absence of such a resource fanciful accounts flourish This book provides a rich narrative of the early development of online information retrieval systems and services from 1963 to 1976 a period important to anyone who uses a search engine online catalog or large database Drawing on personal experience extensive research and interviews with many of the key participants the book describes the individuals projects and institutions of the period It also corrects many common errors and misconceptions and provides milestones for many of the significant developments in online systems and technology

Experimental Modal Analysis and Dynamic Component Synthesis: Software users guide Randall J. Allemang, 1987

ICANN '93 Stan Gielen, Bert Kappen, 2012-12-06 This book contains the proceedings of the International Conference on Artificial Neural Networks which was held between September 13 and 16 in Amsterdam It is the third in a series which started two years ago in Helsinki and which last year took place in Brighton Thanks to the European Neural Network Society ICANN has emerged as the leading conference on neural networks in Europe Neural networks is a field of research which has enjoyed a rapid expansion and great popularity in both the academic and industrial research communities The field is motivated by the commonly held belief that applications in the fields of artificial intelligence and robotics will benefit from a good understanding of the neural information processing properties that underlie human intelligence Essential aspects of neural information processing are highly parallel execution of computation integration of memory and process and robustness against fluctuations It is believed that intelligent skills such as perception motion and cognition can be easier realized in neuro computers than in a conventional computing paradigm This requires active research in neurobiology to extract computational principles from experimental neurobiological findings in physics and mathematics to study the relation between architecture and function in neural networks and in cognitive science to study higher brain functions such as language and reasoning Neural networks technology has already lead to practical methods that solve real problems in a wide area of industrial applications The clusters on robotics and applications contain sessions on various sub topics in these fields
