

Field Guide to Project Management, 2nd Edition

Chapter 17

How to Motivate All Stakeholders to Work Together

Introduction

Who are the stakeholders and why should we worry about them? The answer is that project management is about running a successful project and the degree of that success is ultimately measured by the success of the product that is delivered. The problem is that such success is often a matter of perception and that perception is in the eyes of the stakeholders.

So, anything that can be done within the scope of the project to influence stakeholders to take a positive view also will help in managing the project. This is good reason to "worry" about the stakeholders and their expectations.

In the following sections we will look at some issues around success, the stakeholders involved and how to energize them.

In the text, the term stakeholder is used to refer to stakeholders and constituents collectively. If the project is large, significant, or critical, it will be necessary to mount a formal program that establishes and maintains constant stakeholder linkages. Often called a Project Public-Relations Program (PPRP), it is designed to deal with the public and the media and requires expert staff to undertake this work.
