Greenwood,2007-04-15 One of the most astonishing aspects of juvenile crime is how little is known about the impact of the policies and programs put in place to fight it The most commonly used strategies and programs for combating juvenile delinquency problems primarily rely on intuition and fads Fortunately as a result of the promising new research documented in Changing Lives these deficiencies in our juvenile justice system might quickly be remedied Peter W Greenwood here demonstrates here that as crimes rates have fallen researchers have identified more connections between specific risk factors and criminal behavior while program developers have discovered a wide array of innovative interventions The result of all this activity he reveals has been the revelation of a few prevention models that reduce crime much more cost effectively than popular approaches such as tougher sentencing D A R E boot camps and scared straight programs Changing Lives expertly presents the most promising of these prevention programs their histories the quality of evidence to support their effectiveness the public policy programs involved in bringing them into wider use and the potential for investments and developmental research to increase the range and quality of programs

Setting a New Agenda for Student Engagement and Retention in Historically Black Colleges and Universities Prince, Charles B. W.,Ford, Rochelle L.,2016-06-27 As more Americans are attending college historically black colleges and universities HBCUs are now in a position where they must directly compete with other institutions While other colleges and universities might have more resources and stronger infrastructures HBCUs provide better opportunities to meet the needs of students of color Setting a New Agenda for Student Engagement and Retention in Historically Black Colleges and Universities explores the innovations that HBCUs can enact to better serve and prepare the next generation of African American leaders and to be more competitive in the higher education landscape As students need different forms of support throughout their academic career it becomes necessary to engage them through mentorship programming and classroom management This book is a valuable resource for educators and administration at HBCUs sociologists policy makers and students studying education science and administration
