Girls begin going to school

Many of the reformers felt that education for girls was necessary in order to improve the condition of women.

Vidyasagar in Calcutta and many other reformers in Bombay set up schools for girls. When the first schools were opened in the mid-nineteenth century, many people were afraid of them. Therefore, throughout the nineteenth century, most educated women were taught at home by liberal fathers or husbands. Sometimes women taught themselves and secretly learned to read and write in the flickering light of candles at night.

Pandita Ramabai, a great scholar of Sanskrit, felt that Hinduism was oppressive towards women, and wrote a book about the miserable lives of upper caste Hindu women. She founded a widows' home at Poona to provide shelter to widows and were given training so that they could support themselves.

From the early twentieth century, they formed political pressure groups to push through laws for female suffrage and better health care and education for women. Some of them joined various kinds of nationalist and socialist movements from the 1920s.

1. What was Pandita Ramabai's contribution towards the lives of widows? [1]
2. What do you understand by the term 'female suffrage' ? [1]
3. Why were the girls denied the opportunity to attend school in mid nineteenth century? [2]
