Multiple Sclerosis Research Papers:

Landmark Papers in Neurology Martin R. Turner, Matthew C. Kiernan, 2015-08-20 Current understanding of neurological disease has been evolving over the past 150 years With the increasing and earlier sub specialization of neurology trainees and their variable exposure to higher academic study there is little opportunity to put this development into a historical context as a whole Understanding the evidence base or appreciating the lack of it in some cases is an important part of training but this is rarely presented in a palatable entertaining form Part of the Landmark Papers in series this book brings together the ten most important papers for each sub speciality within neurology covering the full range of major neurological conditions Papers have been selected by leading international experts who not only summarize what each paper showed but place them into a wider context that makes a coherent story of how their sub speciality has developed

Overcoming Multiple Sclerosis George Jelinek, 2010 Presents an overview about multiple sclerosis proposes that lifestyle choices play a large role in its development and offers recommendations for how to manage the disease
