

Summary

The Guns of August is a 1962 Pulitzer Prize-winning book of nonfiction by Barbara W. Tuchman. Tuchman achieved prominence as a historian with her third book, The Zimmerman Telegram, and international fame with The Guns of August. Encompassing the European political arena from King Edward VII's death through the first month of World War I, The Guns of August offers clarity on the causes of the war, its inevitability, and how it shaped the modern world. Prominent themes include The Ripple Effects of Individual Actions, War Is Caused by Hubris, Not Inequity, and The Courage of Ordinary Soldiers Versus the Military Machine.

Content Warning: The source material contains descriptions of conflict-related violence, including war crimes against civilians.

Plot Summary

King Edward VII of England dies in May 1910, and his funeral marks the end of the old order. Edward VII had represented the grandeur of the English empire under his mother, Queen Victoria, and his brief rule from 1901 to 1910 was synonymous with the leisured elite.

Kaiser Wilhelm II of Germany (the German empire at the time consisted of Prussia, Bavaria, and many other smaller municipalities united by necessity during the Franco-Prussian War) believes that Edward has sought a policy of German "encirclement," wooing allies to surround and isolate Germany. Germany believes it should be the leader of the world, not England. This belief, along with the Kaiser's idea that the other countries of the world are closing Germany in, leads to the start of World War I.

For years, both Germany and France have been preparing for another war. The French still remember the War of 1870, a conflict between France and Germany that resulted in the French loss of Alsace-Lorraine. The Germans think the French are too decadent to rule. Germany's plan involves an invasion of Belgium and a massive sweep into France. The French plan involves attacking through the Alsace-Lorraine region, where the French believe the Germans will be weak.
