Ans: Universal Declaration of Human Rights (UDHR):

The development of the idea of human rights was started in the eighteenth century. However, the concept of human rights acquired significance in the wake of the Second World War. The modern concept of human rights has been taken from the Universal Declaration of Human Rights (UDHR), which was adopted by the United Nations General Assembly on 10th December 1948.

This document is considered a milestone in the history of human rights. According to this declaration, all people and all nations must aim to achieve certain goals and the same standards exist for all human beings across the globe. The UDHR remains the standard by which these rights are defined and framed.

Q.4: Describe the development of an understanding of human rights at the international level.

Ans: Developing an understanding of human rights at the International Level:

The United Nations (UN) is a world organization. This organization aims to maintain peace and stability in the world. It also works for the betterment of human beings. It has a mandate to investigate violations of human rights. The Human Rights Council is a subsidiary body of the General Assembly and reports directly to it. It ranks below the Security Council, which is the final authority for the interpretation of the United Nations Charter. Forty-seven out of the total number of members can deliberate on the issues in the council. The Council is based in Geneva. It meets three times a year with additional meetings to respond to urgent situations.

Q.5: Describe the development of an understanding of human rights at the national level.

Ans: Developing an understanding of human rights at the National Level:

The Constitution of the Islamic Republic of Pakistan obligates the State of Pakistan to protect and promote the human rights of all its citizens without any discrimination.
