Fifty Days Of Solitude A Memoir:

Fifty Days of Solitude Doris Grumbach,1995-11-30 A New York Times Notable Book Faced with a rare opportunity to experiment with solitude Doris Grumbach decided to live in her coastal Maine home without speaking to anyone for fifty days The result is a beautiful meditation about what it means to write to be alone and to come to terms with mortality The Collected Memoirs Volume One Doris Grumbach,2018-11-20 Three memoirs about isolation aging and death from an author whose private self is as intelligent and generous as her public persona Publishers Weekly Fifty Days of Solitude Faced with a rare opportunity to experiment with true solitude Doris Grumbach decided to live in her coastal Maine home without speaking to anyone for fifty days A New York Times Notable Book the result is a quiet elegantly written recollection about what it means to write to be alone and to come to terms with mortality Publishers Weekly The Pleasure of Their Company As her eightieth birthday approaches Doris Grumbach uses the event as an opportunity both to look backward and to grow She weaves a delightful tapestry of surprising and meaningful observations allowing readers a glimpse into her life and the characters that have peopled her nearly eight decades on Earth Library Journal Extra Innings This New York Times Notable Book follows a year in Doris Grumbach's life beginning with the release of her memoir Coming into the End Zone and revealing that she possesses as keen an eye in her seventies as she did when she wrote The Spoil of Flowers thirty years earlier In this clear honest picture of her own old age Grumbach details each passing month with their trials and triumphs Library Journal The Lioness in Winter Ann Burack-Weiss,2015-10-13 When she started working with the aged more than forty years ago Ann Burack Weiss began storing the knowledge and skills she thought would help when she got old herself It was not until she hit her mid seventies that she realized she had packed sneakers to climb Mount Everest not anticipating the crevices and chasms that constitute the rocky terrain of old age The professional gerontological and social work literature offered little help so she turned to the late life works of beloved women authors who had bravely climbed the mountain and sent back news from the summit Maya Angelou Colette Simone de Beauvoir Joan Didion Marguerite Duras M F K Fisher Doris Lessing Mary Oliver Adrienne Rich May Sarton and Florida Scott Maxwell were among the many guides she turned to for inspiration In The Lioness in Winter Burack Weiss blends an analysis of key writings from these and other famed women authors with her own wisdom to create an essential companion for older women and those who care for them She fearlessly examines issues such as living with loss finding comfort and joy in unexpected places and facing disability and death This book is filled with powerful passages from women who turned their experiences of aging into art and Burack Weiss ties their words to her own struggles and epiphanies framing their collective observations with key insights from social work practice Shame and the Aging Woman J. Brooks Bouson,2016-08-19 This book brings together the research findings of contemporary feminist age studies scholars shame theorists and feminist gerontologists in order to unfurl the affective dynamics of gendered ageism In her analysis of what she calls embodied shame J Brooks Bouson describes older women's shame about the visible signs of aging and the health and appearance of their bodies as they undergo the normal processes of bodily aging Examining both fictional and nonfiction works by contemporary North American and British women authors this book offers a sustained analysis of the various ways that ageism devalues and damages the identities of otherwise psychologically healthy women in our graying culture Shame theory as Bouson shows astutely explains why gendered ageism is so deeply entrenched in our culture and why even aging feminists may succumb to this distressing but sometimes hidden cultural affliction

Cultural Histories of Ageing Margery Vibe Skagen, 2021-05-12 Drawing on sixteenth to twenty first century American British French German Polish Norwegian and Russian literature and philosophy this collection teases out culturally specific conceptions of old age as well as subjective constructions of late life identity and selfhood The internationally known humanistic gerontologist Jan Baars the prominent historian of old age David Troyansky and the distinguished cultural historian and pioneer in the field of literature and science George Rousseau join a team of literary historians who trace out the interfaces between their chosen texts and the respective periods medical and gerontological knowledge The chapters in depth analyses of major and less known works demonstrate the rich potential of fiction poetry and autobiographical writing in the construction of a cultural history of senescence These literary examples not only bear witness to longue dur e representations of old age and epochal transitions regarding cultural attitudes to the aged they also foreground the subjectivities that produced some of these representations and that continue to communicate with readers of other times and places By casting a net over a variety of authors genres periods and languages the collection gives a broad sense of how literature is among the richest and most engaging sources for historicizing the ageing self

Literary Autobiography and Arab National Struggles Tahia Abdel Nasser, 2020-05-28 In memoirs Arab writers have invoked solitude in moments of deep public involvement Focusing on Taha Hussein Sonallah Ibrahim Assia Djebar Latifa al Zayyat Mahmoud Darwish Mourid Barghouti Edward Said Haifa Zangana and Radwa Ashour this book reads a range of autobiographical forms sources and affinities with other literatures Taking a comparative approach Nasser shows the local sources of contemporary Arab autobiography adaptations of a global genre and cultural exchange She also examines different aspects of the contemporary autobiography as it has evolved in the Arab world during the past half century focusing on the particularity of the genre written in different languages but pertaining to one overarching Arab culture Drawing on memoirs testimonies autobiographical novels poetic autobiography journals and diaries she examines solitude and national struggles in contemporary Arab autobiography
