Identification Scott Hunsaker, 2023-05-31 Editor Scott L Hunsaker's new volume sheds much needed light on the process of identifying students for gifted education services a topic surrounded by controversy and confusion With contributions from leading experts in the field Identification takes an in depth look at the research and practice of identification of gifted and talented students Each of the four sections tackles an important aspect of the issue

Theoretical Foundations Professional Foundations Identification Practice and Instrumentation The text presents multiple points of view and does not shy away from thorny issues such as the theory practice gap underrepresentation of diverse populations identification as status bestowal rather than assessment process rigidity in use of processes and instruments the search for the magic bullet test and the validity of nonverbal intelligence tests Whether you are an administrator teacher gifted education specialist professor or parent Identification will offer you insight presented nowhere else Mastering Modern Psychological Testing Cecil R. Reynolds, Robert A. Altmann, Daniel N. Allen, 2021-05-13 This book provides a comprehensive introduction to psychological assessment and covers areas not typically addressed in existing test and measurements texts such as neuropsychological assessment and the use of tests in forensics settings The book introduces the vocabulary of the profession and the most basic mathematics of testing early as being fundamental to understanding the field Numerous examples are drawn from tests that the authors have written or otherwise helped to develop reflecting the authors deep understanding of these tests and their familiarity with problems encountered in test development use and interpretation Following the introduction of the basic areas of psychometrics the book moves to areas of testing that represent various approaches to measuring different psychological constructs memory language executive function etc with emphasis on the complex issue of cultural bias in testing Examples of existing tests are given throughout the book however this book is not designed to prepare students to go out and administer score and interpret specific psychological tests Rather the purpose of this book is to provide the foundational core of knowledge about tests measurement and assessment constructs issues and quantitative tools Explains what constitutes a psychological test how tests are developed how they are best used and how to evaluate their strengths and weaknesses Describes areas of testing that represent different approaches to measuring different psychological constructs Explains applications of psychological testing to issues in the courts Addresses how test authors and publishers design and research tests to address the difficult and demanding issues of cultural differences in test performance and interpretation of test results Interplay of Creativity and Giftedness in Science Melissa K. Demetrikopoulos, John L. Pecore, 2015-12-17 This book explores education for juvenile offenders in relation to Passages Academy which is both similar to and representative of many school programs in juvenile correctional facilities Examining the mission and population of this school contributes to an understanding of the ways in which the teachers think about and ultimately act with respect to their detained juveniles students and particularly illustrates how the tension between punishment and rehabilitation is played out in school policies and design By calling attention to the decisions that surround juvenile detention education the extant research concentrates on three main areas first the social political and pedagogical forces that determine who enters the juvenile justice systems second how these court involved youths are educated while they are in the system and third the practical problems and the social justice issues youths encountered when transitioning back to their community schools I Hope I Don t See You Tomorrow is both heartwarming and heartbreaking its vast empathy for the students that L A Gabay teaches is edifying while its unsparing examination of the forces that push youth into detention is soul shearing Gabay is at once Tocqueville and Kozol he brilliantly guides us through the educational territory that is foreign to most of us even as he paints a searing portrait of teachers who shape lesson plans for students who must learn under impossible conditions Gabay s haunting and eloquent missive from the front lines of pain and possibility couldn t be more timely as the nation s first black president seeks to lessen the stigma of nonviolent ex offenders in our society Gabay s book confronts the criminal justice system at its institutional roots in the economic misery and racial strife of schooling that compounds the suffering of poor youth as they are contained by a state that often only pays attention to them when they are in trouble Gabay opens eyes and vexes minds with this stirring and sober account of what it means to teach those whom society has deemed utterly expendable Michael Eric Dyson author of The Black Presidency Barack Obama and the Politics of Race in America As a beneficiary of Lee Gabay and his colleague s patience discipline and compassionate teaching at the school this timely book beautifully decrypts the pedagogical framework within the juvenile justice system As America comes to term with its zeal for incarceration policymakers educators government officials parents and advocates should take advantage of this carefully written book and use it as reflection and pause as we prepare our young court involved students towards adulthood Jim St Germain Advisory counsel on President Obama s Taskforce on Police Community Relations and Mayor Bloomberg s Close to Home initiative
