Elizabeth Is Missing:

Elizabeth is Missing Emma Healey, 2014 Elizabeth is missing reads the note in Maud's pocket in her own handwriting. Lately Maud's been getting forgetful. She keeps buying peach slices when she has a cupboard full, forgets to drink the cups of tea she's made and writes notes to remind herself of things. But Maud is determined to discover what has happened to her friend Elizabeth and what it has to do with the unsolved disappearance of her sister Sukey years back just after the war.

'Elizabeth is Missing' Lillian De La Torre, 1947 Fictions of Dementia Susanne Katharina Christ, 2022-09-20 Taking its cues from both classical and post-classical narratologies, this study explores both forms and functions of the representation of dementia in Anglophone fictions. Initially, dementia is conceptualised as a narrative epistemological paradox: The more those affected know what it is like to have dementia, the less they can tell about it. Narrative fiction is the only discourse that provides an imaginative glimpse at the subjective experience of dementia in language. The narratological modelling of four narrative modes elaborates how the paradox becomes productive in fiction. Depending on the narrative perspective taken but also on the type of narration, the technique for representing consciousness and the epistemic strategy of narrating dementia, the respective narrative modes come with different prerequisites and possibilities for narrating dementia. The analysis of four contemporary Anglophone dementia fictions based on the developed model reveals their potential functions. Fiction allows readers to learn about the challenges of dementia, grants them perspective, taking it trains cognitive flexibility and explores the meaning of memory, knowledge, narrative and imagination, and thus also offers trajectories of a cultural coping with dementia.

Poetics of Disturbances, 2024-10-28 This volume calls for a Narratology of Diversity by investigating narratives of non-normative bodies and minds. It explores mental health representations in literature, including neurodiversity, the body-mind nexus, and embodied non-normativities, therein emphasizing the importance of understanding diverse psychological conditions as represented in narratives. The contributions include perspectives from a wide variety of scholars of European, North American, and comparative literature and culture. While post-classical narratology has evolved through phases of diversification and consolidation, this volume represents innovation in understanding narrative development to embrace new areas of social awareness, including gendered narratologies, specifically feminist and queer narratologies, and post-colonial criticism, paving the way for a more inclusive narratology. 'Elizabeth is Missing'. Dementia and Society Mathieu Vandenbulcke, Rose-Marie Dröes, Erik Schokkaert, 2022-06-09 Dementia is increasingly being recognised as a public health priority and poses one of the largest challenges we face as a society. At the same time, there is a growing awareness that the quest for a cure for Alzheimer's disease and other causes of dementia needs to be complemented by efforts to improve the lives of people with dementia. To gain a better understanding of dementia and of how to organize dementia care, there is a need to bring together insights from many different disciplines. Filling this knowledge gap, this book provides an integrated view on dementia, resulting from extensive discussions between world experts from different fields including medicine social psychology nursing economics and literary studies Working towards a development of integrative policies focused on social inclusion and quality of life Dementia and Society reminds the reader that a better future for persons with dementia is a collective responsibility
