Wilson's ten play cycle about African American life in each decade of the twentieth century Framed by Wilson's life experiences and informed by his extensive interviews this book provides fresh coherent detailed readings of each play well situated in the extant scholarship It also provides an overview of the cycle as a whole demonstrating how it comprises a compelling interrogation of American culture and historiography Keenly aware of the musical paradigms informing Wilson's dramatic technique Nadel shows how jazz and particularly the blues provide the structural mechanisms that allow Wilson to examine alternative notions of time property and law Wilson's improvisational logics become crucial to expressing his notions of black identity and resituating the relationship of literal to figurative in the African American community The final two chapters include contributions by scholars Harry J Elam Jr and Donald E Pease August Wilson Patti

Hartigan,2023-08-15 The masterful The Wall Street Journal invaluable Los Angeles Times first authoritative biography of August Wilson the most important and successful American playwriting of the late 20th century by a theater critic who knew him August Wilson wrote a series of ten plays celebrating African American life in the 20th century one play for each decade No other American playwright has completed such an ambitious oeuvre Two of the plays became successful films Fences starring Denzel Washington and Viola Davis and Ma Rainey's Black Bottom starring Viola Davis and Chadwick Boseman Fences and The Piano Lesson won the Pulitzer Prize for Drama Fences won the Tony Award for Best Play and years after Wilson's death in 2005 Jitney earned a Tony Award for Best Revival of a Play Through his brilliant use of vernacular speech Wilson developed unforgettable characters who epitomized the trials and triumphs of the African American experience He said that he didn't research his plays but wrote them from the blood's memory a sense of racial history that he believed African Americans shared Author and theater critic Patti Hartigan traced his ancestry back to slavery and his plays echo with uncanny similarities to the history of his ancestors She interviewed Wilson many times before his death and traces his life from his childhood in Pittsburgh where nine of the plays take place to Broadway She also interviewed scores of friends theater colleagues and family members and conducted extensive research to tell the absorbing richly detailed Chicago Tribune story of a writer who left an indelible imprint on American theater and opened the door for future playwrights of color August Wilson's American Century Laurence A. Glasco,2026-02-10 Playwright August Wilson is best known for his American Century Cycle a sequence of ten plays including the Pulitzer Prize winning Fences and The Piano Lesson that chronicle the lives of Black Americans in each decade of the twentieth century But behind the celebrated plays stands a complex man shaped by his hometown's vibrant Black culture In August Wilson's American Century Life as Art Laurence A Glasco one of the foremost historians of Black life in Pittsburgh draws on Wilson's early poetry archival material and original interviews with family members neighbors and friends to show how the city and its residents shaped the playwright and his work Wilson's overlapping identities as an outsider warrior race man and poet helped him persevere in the face of setbacks weave real life observations with his poetry to craft memorable dialogue and compelling characters and portray the realities of race in America in ways that have resonated with theatergoers and readers ever since Glasco uncovers the story of how the people and places of Pittsburgh remained with Wilson after he left his hometown shining through in a body of work that brought the struggles and triumphs of the Black experience to a wide audience and changed American theater for the better

I Ain't Sorry for Nothin' I Done Joan Herrington, 1998 Limelight The most successful African American playwright of his time August Wilson is a dominant presence on Broadway and in regional theaters throughout the country Herrington traces the roots of Wilson's drama back to the visual artists and jazz musicians who inspired award-winning plays like Ma Rainey's Come and Gone Fences and The Piano Lesson From careful analysis of evolving playscripts and from interviews with Wilson and theater professionals who have worked closely with him Herrington offers a portrait of the playwright as thinker and craftsman

The Dramatic Vision of August Wilson Sandra Garrett Shannon, 1995 In The Dramatic Vision of August Wilson Sandra Shannon follows the playwright's path through each decade From the outset she considers how he uses poetry the blues Romare Bearden's art and other cultural artifacts to lead him to imagined sites of pain and resignation healing and renewal in the collective memory of black America It is in these places of defeat and victory Shannon demonstrates that Wilson creates drama as he excavates examines and reclaims the past Although Wilson diverts attention away from factual details and focuses on the human costs of family dislocation chronic unemployment or cultural alienation Shannon illustrates how fully the plays are grounded in credible historical contexts from slavery and Emancipation to the aftermath of World War II the 1960s and the Vietnam War Moreover she identifies and analyzes the themes that recur in some plays and branch off in new directions in others including the dislocations that attended black migration to the North and communication gaps between black men and women As she examines each of the plays in Wilson's dramatic history of the African American experience Shannon conveys the broad range of his dramatic vision
