

TELL ME ABOUT A TIME YOU MADE A MISTAKE

”As a project manager, I understand the importance of owning up to mistakes. I once underestimated the time required for a critical task during a project.

Upon realizing my error, I quickly gathered the teams to adjust the schedule and resource allocation.

I took responsibility for the mistake and transparently communicated the revised plan to stakeholders, including the client.

Despite the setback, the project was completed successfully, and the client was satisfied. This experience highlighted the value of accurate planning, adaptability, and learning from errors.”
