It includes local, multicultural, and indigenous issues and perspectives, local research in development, regionally relevant statistical information, and National guidelines on health. Taking a unique integrated topical and chronological approach, each chapter focuses on a domain of development such as physical growth, cognition, or personality and traces developmental trends and influences in that domain from infancy to old age. Within each chapter, you will find sections on four life stages: infancy, childhood, adolescence, and adulthood. This text also includes a MindTap course offering with a strong suite of resources, including videos and the chronological sections within the text, can be easily customized to suit academic and student needs. Life-Span Human Development Elizabeth A. Sigelman, 1994-08 Psychology Catalog 2005 Neil Thomson, 2004-09 Developmental Psychology David Reed Shaffer, 1993 Intended for courses in child and adolescent development found in departments of psychology, educational psychology, home economics, family studies, and nursing, the third edition of this text has been revised. It retains the original elements while citing new research and updating all references. The book is a portrayal of developmental psychology that takes applications seriously and shows how basic research has helped us to understand and, in many cases, to solve a variety of real-world problems. The author has organized the book with the goals of helping students to understand that human development is a complex process that grows from the interactions of a changing person in a changing world and that the knowledge gained from theoretically inspired empirical research has many real-life applications that will serve them in their roles as parents, teachers, nurses, day care workers, pediatricians, or psychologists. Human Development Robert V.
