WHAT IS AN INTRODUCTION? WHY IS IT IMPORTANT?

The introduction paragraph is the first paragraph in the paper. This paragraph presents the thesis of the paper – the main claim or assertion the author is making through the presentation of supporting information. In addition, this paragraph establishes the context of the paper (Davis, Davis, Stewart, & Bullock (2013)1. This context should be presented in a manner that is neither so broad that it includes irrelevant information not presented in the body, nor so specific that it goes into too much detail about the information discussed in the body. This paragraph is essential for clear and organized writing. By providing an appropriate context and an effective thesis sentence, the introduction allows the writer to narrow the scope of their paper and helps with ensuring all information and claims relate back to the thesis. Some strategies for creating introductions are discussed below.

THE GENERAL STRUCTURE OF AN INTRODUCTION

There are many models for how introduction paragraphs should be written, what they should include, and their specific formatting. If in doubt about the exact format and/or contents, refer to the professor's specific preferences. However, when writing for academic purposes, the inverted triangle model is the most frequently used structure (see diagram on page 2). This method presents the introduction in a deductive structure (general to specific) (Davis et al., 2013).
