The role of entrepreneurial ecosystems in sustainable local economic development Marius Venter, Natanya Meyer, Niel Kruger, 2025-08-15 This book endorsed by the Economic Development Council of South Africa EDCSA and the PASCAL International Observatory focuses on local economic development LED emphasising the role of entrepreneurial ecosystems EEs in fostering sustainable economic growth Local economic development is crucial in overcoming challenges such as historical dependence on government employment and limited funds for development The book advocates for LED strategies to create an enabling environment for entrepreneurship by providing infrastructure finance mentorship and industry support It stresses the importance of stakeholder engagement and local research in addressing regional challenges effectively Highlighting the significance of EEs in fostering entrepreneurial development the contributing authors to the book argue that EEs can drive job creation boost local economies foster innovation enhance competitiveness and promote inclusive growth Moreover the chapters in the book emphasise the need for research conducted by local scholars to ensure relevance sensitivity and ownership of findings ultimately contributing to capacity building and sustainable development The book proposes that LED can serve as a tool for establishing sustainable EEs and vice versa through facilitating formal collaboration among various stakeholders Its target audience are scholars in Development Economics and scholars whose research focuses on EEs offering a comprehensive framework for understanding regional challenges and solutions thereby enabling meaningful contributions to local economic growth and development in the region inviting scholars to build upon the presented research This book provides valuable insights into promoting entrepreneurship and sustainable development offering actionable perspectives informed by both regional and international contexts It is based on qualitative and quantitative research and serves as an essential resource for anyone interested in driving economic growth and development

Economic Development Incentives, Local Jurisdictions and Employment Paul F. Byrne, 2014 In recent decades state and local policy makers role in fostering economic development and job creation within their jurisdictions has continuously become more active and expansive with local jurisdictions offering an array of economic incentives meant to attract and retain jobs with tax increment financing TIF being one of the most popular of these incentives In recent years some critics have questioned the incentives efficacy calling for greater oversight of their use and evidence of success at economic development and job creation In response the State of Missouri recently implemented reporting requirements for all Missouri TIF districts including among other things the number of jobs created and retained by each TIF district However the accuracy of these reported impacts depends on the extent to which the incentives draw new economic activity from outside the jurisdiction versus merely shifting existing activity from within the jurisdiction This research studies the accuracy of the reported impact of TIF on job creation by examining how the number of jobs reported by local TIF agencies impacts the number of jobs in the jurisdiction as measured by the Bureau of Labor Statistics

Local Economic and Employment Development Local Governance and the Drivers of Growth Organisation for Economic Co-operation and Development, 2005-12-07 Innovation skills entrepreneurship and social cohesion are key drivers of growth and essential goals of effective economic development strategies Each has a strong governance component which requires partnership between government business and civil society for co ordinating actions and adapting policies to local conditions But what are the best governance mechanisms to fuel the drivers of growth What is the role of central government in maximising their effectiveness What specific actions must cities carry out to become more competitive and spread prosperity How can public services be managed in the most effective way to support local competitiveness in the age of globalisation and networking How can partnerships generate more funding and deliver better results For this book the OECD has brought together top world experts to translate policy lessons into concrete recommendations that will help policy makers and practitioners make the best governance decisions to stimulate growth

Local Economic Development In The Developing World Etienne Louis Nel, Christian Myles Rogerson, Over the last two decades the concept and practice of Local Economic Development LED has gained widespread acceptance around the world as a locally based response to the challenges posed by globalization devolution local level opportunities and economic crises Support for local economic development is now firmly on the agenda of many national governments and key international agencies This volume examines the debates about Local Economic Development and examines some of the unfolding experiences of LED in the developing world The focus is upon the region of southern Africa and more especially upon post apartheid South Africa LED emerged in South Africa as one of the more significant post apartheid development options being pursued by empowered localities with the overt encouragement of national government Elsewhere in the developing world much interest surrounds the experience of LED in post apartheid South Africa which is seen as a laboratory for experimentation innovation and learning The seventeen chapters in this book examine the range of LED interventions that have been the basis for experimentation in the last decade including both pro market as well as pro poor interventions Key themes include debates about the most appropriate policy directions for LED its contribution towards sustainable development the role of social capital cluster support public procurement eco development good governance and tourism led LED The book also contains a series of detailed case studies on the implementation of LED in South Africa and the wider region of southern Africa including analyses of LED undertaken at a variety of scales from the provincial metropolitan and small town level Until now most research on local economic development has focused on the developed world This volume breaks new ground in applying LED policy and practices to problems specific to the developing world It will be of interest to scholars of development studies urban and regional planning human geography and urban studies This compelling and comprehensive book provides a look at the innovative including pro poor local economic development strategies being used in South Africa The contributors to Local Economic Development in the Changing World The Experience of Southern Africa are among the very best scholars in the field Gary Gaile University of Colorado Etienne Nel and Christian Rogerson have produced an excellent book on local economic development in South Africa The chapters in this timely volume contain many valuable lessons for both the developing and the developed world Of particular importance is the policy focus of Nel and Rogerson on investing in and empowering low income workers entrepreneurs families and neighborhoods Because of the special emphasis on inclusive economic development strategies this book is a very useful guide to what the Prague Institute calls Treating People and Communities as Assets Dr Marc A Weiss Chairman and CEO Prague Institute for Global Urban Development Etienne Nel is associate professor in the Department of Geography of Rhodes University Grahamstown South Africa Christian M Rogerson is professor of human geography School of Geography Archaeology and Environmental Studies University of Witwatersrand Johannesburg
