

Lesson 1

Long-Term Targets Addressed (Based on NYSP12 ELA-CCL3):

- I can effectively participate in a conversation with my peers and adults. (SL.3.1)
- I can ask questions to deepen my understanding of informational text. (RC.3.2)
- I can answer questions using specific details from informational text. (RC.3.1)

Supporting Learning Targets

- I can talk with my partner in order to record what I noticed and I wonder about pictures.
- I can ask and answer questions about a text.

Measuring Assessment

- Observation of partner discussion
- Contributions to conversation record
- Asking and Answering Questions about Mystery Texts sheet

Materials:

- Seven photographs/illustrations (one for reading, six for carousel stations) about frogs, but not actually of frogs to facilitate the work of this module. Note: These pictures are intended to create curiosity and serve as a "mystery" for the forthcoming study of frogs. That it is crucial to select images that give clues about frogs but that don't directly show a frog. (See, for example, page 5 of Bullfrog at Magnolia Creek by Deborah Davenport.) If there is text on the page, be sure to cover it up.
- Seven pieces of chart paper (one for each photo/illustration)
- Seven What I Noticed/What I Wonder T-Charts (see teacher created; please see Opening 8)
- Markers (ideally a different color for each pair of students)
- Asking and Answering Questions about Mystery Texts sheet (one per student)
- "Frog" poem from All the Good Poems, by Valerie Worth (see teacher copy only in opening)
- Decorated names

Work Time

A. Carousel Protocol: "Frog" Mystery Pictures (9 minutes)

- Stationed: Each student will spend 9 minutes at their picture discussing and recording what they wonder and what they notice.

B. Pondering from Text: Frog Poem and Storyline from Bullfrog at Magnolia Creek (9 minutes)

- Quietly students look in the circle.
- Tell students that they will continue to become great readers during this study, encountering a few different types of texts. They will be

Standards for Our Schools Marc S. Tucker, Judy B. Coddling, 1998-01-23 This timely tough minded book shows how American public schools can be saved by instituting high standards for academic achievement Standards for Our Schools explains not just what the standards movement is about and why it is important but also what it will take to bring every student up to high standards no matter where that student starts The authors show how a single minded focus on achievement will change everything from the kinds of curriculum materials

we use and the design of elementary and middle schools to the abandonment of the comprehensive high school and the institution of a diploma based on meeting standards rather than on attendance At the heart of this revolution are the performance standards themselves which provide clear expectations for student achievement by showing examples of standard setting student work Tucker and Codding focus on empowering both students and adults by giving students the gift of high expectations and by giving school professionals the information skills authority and resources needed to do the job They advocate building a standards based instructional system creating a results oriented culture devoted to continuous improvement and making the institution and the people in it accountable for reaching the goals set by the standards This book lays out a step by step plan that will get struggling students to high standards as well as improve the performance of high achievers An extremely practical book it gives everyone involved in the education of our students the tools they need to do the job Standards for Our Schools will be the bible of standards based education and the foundation on which educators parents and policymakers can build the educational system of the future

Multiple Intelligences and Portfolios Evangeline Harris Stefanakis,2002 Howard Gardner s theory of multiple intelligences suggests that culture language and environment all influence how an individual s intelligence is expressed In this guide Evangeline Stefanakis provides concrete suggestions for translating Gardner s theory into curriculum and assessment practices in the context of urban classrooms By combining the collection and analysis of student work in comprehensive portfolios she offers a framework for teachers to improve the assessment of diverse individuals Stefanakis is especially well suited to the task of combining theory philosophy and practice on this topic She has helped teachers teacher educators and school leaders understand both MI theory and how to use portfolios to personalize their teaching to better serve all students including those who are bilingual and have disabilities She worked with the Harvard Project Zero on the Massachusetts Schools Network on a three year effort to implement schoolwide portfolio assessment in thirteen urban and rural schools The contents of this book which include principal and teacher stories from the Cambridgeport School grew directly from this experience In eight concise chapters Stefanakis takes teachers through proven strategies for creating personal student profiles and portfolios as windows into learners minds Her book provides a positive focus on children s assets what they do know rather than what they don t a guide on applying the theory of multiple intelligences to personalize learning short practical classroom based content on implementing portfolios Grades K 8 proven ways for teachers to expand their practices for reaching an even wider more diverse and challenging range of learners by differentiating instruction a companion dual platform CD ROM featuring a range of student portfolios and reproducible assessment forms Understanding what students bring to the learning environment and how to accommodate their needs has challenged educators for generations Here is an important addition to the literature on multiple intelligences and on practices that recognize honor and embrace children s diversity
