4-ESS3-2 — Generate and compare multiple solutions to reduce the impacts of natural Earth processes on humans.

Quick Review: Let's explore how we can protect ourselves from natural events like earthquakes or floods. Imagine coming up with different ideas, like building stronger houses or creating barriers to stop water. We can then compare these ideas to see which ones work best. By testing and observing, we learn how to keep people safe from these powerful Earth processes. It's like being a scientist and an inventor, finding smart ways to solve real-world problems!

Teacher Tip: Use questions 1–5 for whole group, and 6–10 as exit slips.

1. Explore and Reflect: Imagine you are a scientist tasked with designing a new type of building that can withstand earthquakes. What materials would you choose, and how would your design reduce the impact on humans living in earthquake-prone areas? Explain your reasoning and consider any experiments you might conduct to test your design.
2. Innovative Solutions: Think about the effects of flooding in coastal areas. Propose two different strategies to reduce the impact of floods on human communities. Compare the effectiveness, cost, and feasibility of each solution, and reflect on which might be more beneficial in the long term.
3. Community Planning: Consider a town frequently affected by hurricanes. Design a community plan that incorporates natural and man-made solutions to minimize hurricane damage. How would you involve local residents in the planning process, and what scientific principles would guide your decisions?
4. Historical Analysis: Research a past natural disaster, such as a volcanic eruption or tsunami. Reflect on how the solutions implemented at that time either succeeded or failed in reducing human impact. How might modern science and technology improve these solutions today?

into easily digestible pieces and show you how to develop assessments that will help you and your students work together to enhance the instructional process in physical education. The authors, who have over three decades of experience teaching and assessing in public schools, describe the various types of performance-based assessments and show how to implement the assessments using numerous models as examples to be adapted to your own situations. Not only will you learn how to develop and use assessments to help students, but you will also receive unit plans for team, individual, and dual sports that you can modify for use in your own classes. You'll learn how to create rubrics, use portfolios in the assessment process, and integrate assessments into fitness education and physical education. You'll also explore the challenges with traditional grading practices and find out how to overcome those challenges. The authors provide a wealth of tools for assessing students according to local, state, and NASPE standards while helping students reach their goals. The text is supported by a Web site that includes a test package, a presentation package with PowerPoint slides, an instructor guide, and a CD-ROM that includes additional forms and assessments.

Performance Based Assessment for Middle and High School Physical Education, Second Edition will help you develop authentic assessments and get the most out of the assessment experience. And in doing so, it will help your students experience success.

Audience Reference for middle and high school educators in developing and implementing physical activity programs. Text for education and physical education majors and for students in technology courses.

The Future of Assessment Carol Anne Dwyer, 2017-09-25. This volume stems from the 2003 Educational Testing Service Invitational Conference that convened leading scholars and practitioners from education, psychology, economics, statistics, and public policy to discuss the important topic of measurement and accountability. The chapters cover all significant aspects of the current accountability scene with careful but not exclusive attention to the No Child Left Behind act. Written by nationally recognized scholars with a mandate to write in a non-technical style, this volume will appeal to anyone seriously interested in school reform and the educational accountability movement.
