Movie Review

Everybody goes to the movie, it seems, to be entertained, but how many go to study movies as works of art. That is what movie reviewing involves: seeing a film as more than an adventure or escape vehicle. It is, in many ways, seeing it as a book, or a painting, or a piece of sculpture - in other words, as a work of art.

Actually, movies mirror life. Like books, they focus on people and the problems of life. The major difference is that in the movies, life unfolds on a screen. It is a reality, nevertheless. Look for the following in a movie:

1. Theme
2. Artistic Focus
3. Realism or fantasy
4. Conflict
5. Characterization
6. Acting
7. Dialogue
8. Film technique
9. Scenery
10. Musical background

The problem with reviewing a movie is that you are seated in the dark and thus cannot take notes. Therefore, you have to rely on memory, but if you train your eye to see more than the story, you can retain a lot of information that would be useful in composing a review. For example, consider the movie The Front, starring Woody Allen. It is a bold film that tries to capture those frightful days of the early 1950s when so many artists were blacklisted because they were accused of being Communists. Because they refused to testify, or avoided the questions of the House Un-American Activities Committee, they lost their jobs and were never employed again.

Or, you can deal with the character Woody Allen plays, a front man for blacklisted writers who collects fees for their scripts. In the process of deceiving others, he gets caught up in the personal greed and public conscience. Allen, a comic actor of great talent, plays this part somewhat seriously and thus makes us believe that there are people who, when others are down, will take advantage to gain something for themselves.

Thus we have identified two key elements worth reviewing in The Front - theme
